

The Hafesa Group is to invest 18 million euros in a new fuel storage plant in Ferrol

- The installation of the Hafesa Group's fifth storage plant consolidates its strategy as a fuel supplier in Spain.
- In this way, the company contributes to Spain's strategic energy autonomy.

Madrid, 10 November 2022.- The Hafesa Group, the holding company involved in the sale and distribution of petroleum products, is to install a new fuel storage and distribution plant in Ferrol (A Coruña), previously used for storing biofuels. With the new facility, in the Outer Harbour at Ferrol, Hafesa will add 12 storage tanks to the 36 that it already has installed in Spanish territory.

This new plant will strengthen the Hafesa Group's operations in northern Spain, where it already has plants at Bilbao and Gijón. This is a key milestone for the growth and consolidation of the company, founded in 2015. Through this investment effort, the Hafesa Group continues to grow and increase its capacity. This would already be the fifth plant installed by the company which, as well as its facilities in the north, also has plants in Motril and Ocaña.

When its fifth plant comes into operation, the Hafesa Group will have a capacity of almost 500,000 m³ for fuel storage. This capacity will also be available to other customers, always under the best market conditions.

The Hafesa Group has planned an additional investment of 18 million euros in improving and adapting the facilities.

This investment commitment by the Hafesa Group to growth will improve the attractiveness and the maritime and land logistics capacities of the port of Ferrol. It will also boost job creation in the region.

With this facility, the Hafesa Group continues to maintain its strategic commitment to the regional development of the fuel industry and its positive impact on local areas. In short, it is committed to the diversification of energy resources.

In the words of Diego Guardamino, Managing Director of the Hafesa Group, "at the Hafesa Group, we want to consolidate ourselves in the storage business by offering customers a safe, flexible alternative at the best price. To achieve this, it is crucial to have more plants of our own".
